Chapter 1: Curated AI Tools Directory & Selection Framework

Choosing the Right Model and Tool for Daily Marketing Operations

Modern marketing requires moving beyond general chatbots to specialised AI capabilities. This starter guide breaks down foundational LLMs (Claude 3.5 Sonnet, GPT-4o, Gemini 1.5 Pro) and categorizes 200+ tools for copywriting, visual asset creation, and audience research.

Always evaluate tools based on integration capability, API access, latency, and hallucination guardrails before embedding them into client deliverables.

```
// System Prompt for Marketing Copy Ideation
Role: Senior Growth Copywriter & Conversion Specialist
Task: Generate 5 high-converting headlines using the PAS framework
Context: B2B SaaS automated lead qualification
Constraint: Under 12 words per headline with strong active verbs
```

Key Takeaways & Best Practices:

- Select models based on task: Claude for nuanced long-form copy, GPT-4o for rapid multimodality.
- Maintain a private swipe file of verified high-performing prompts.
- Standardize outputs using structured JSON formats for repeatable pipeline ingest.

Chapter 2: 100+ Production Prompts & Claude Skills

Instruction Engineering for Predictable High-Converting Outputs

Prompts are code for language models. A robust marketing prompt specifies persona, context, dynamic variables, negative constraints, and exact output syntax.

By packaging these prompts into reusable Claude Skills, marketers save 15+ hours each week on repetitive research, email drafting, and social campaign variation.

// Dynamic Social Repurposing Template
Input: Long-form article transcript
Output format:
1. Twitter/X Thread (7 tweets with engagement hook)
2. LinkedIn Thought Leadership Post (with paragraph breaks)
3. 60-second Short-form Video Script (Hook, Story, Offer)
```

Key Takeaways & Best Practices:

- Always include few-shot examples to align tone and style.
- Use negative prompting to prevent generic buzzwords ("revolutionary", "game-changing").
- Test prompts across varying temperature settings to balance creativity and consistency.
